1. All-Star Selection History

All-Star teams began in 1932 in the East with selections made by the Canadian Press and in 1937 in the West. Selections are made currently by the Football Reporters of Canada.

2. Re Position Names

Player positions and their names have evolved over time as Canadian football itself has changed. The present-day positions of Offensive Guard and Tackle are equivalent to the earlier inside and middle wings while the former 'outside' is roughly equivalent to end, flanker or wide receiver. The old flying wing role equates closely to slotback or flanker.
